Anthropology: A Critical Retrospective

November 20-24, 1996

PROGRAM

The annual meeting of the American Anthropological Association provides a forum for the dissemination of knowledge and discussion. The views expressed at the sessions are solely those of the speakers, and the Association does not endorse, approve, or censor them. Descriptions of events and titles are those of the organizers, not the Association.

Welcome to San Francisco!

On behalf of the AAA Executive Board and the 1996 Program Committee, I welcome you to the 95th Annual Meeting of the American Anthropological Association. This meeting promises to live up to the theme, "Anthropology: A Critical Retrospective," with a record number of attendees and scientific sessions. We should all be able to make the five days an intellectually rewarding experience. I hope to greet many of you personally at the Presidential Sessions and at Association-wide events.

Best wishes,

Yolanda Moses
President
American Anthropological Association

RECORDING SESSIONS

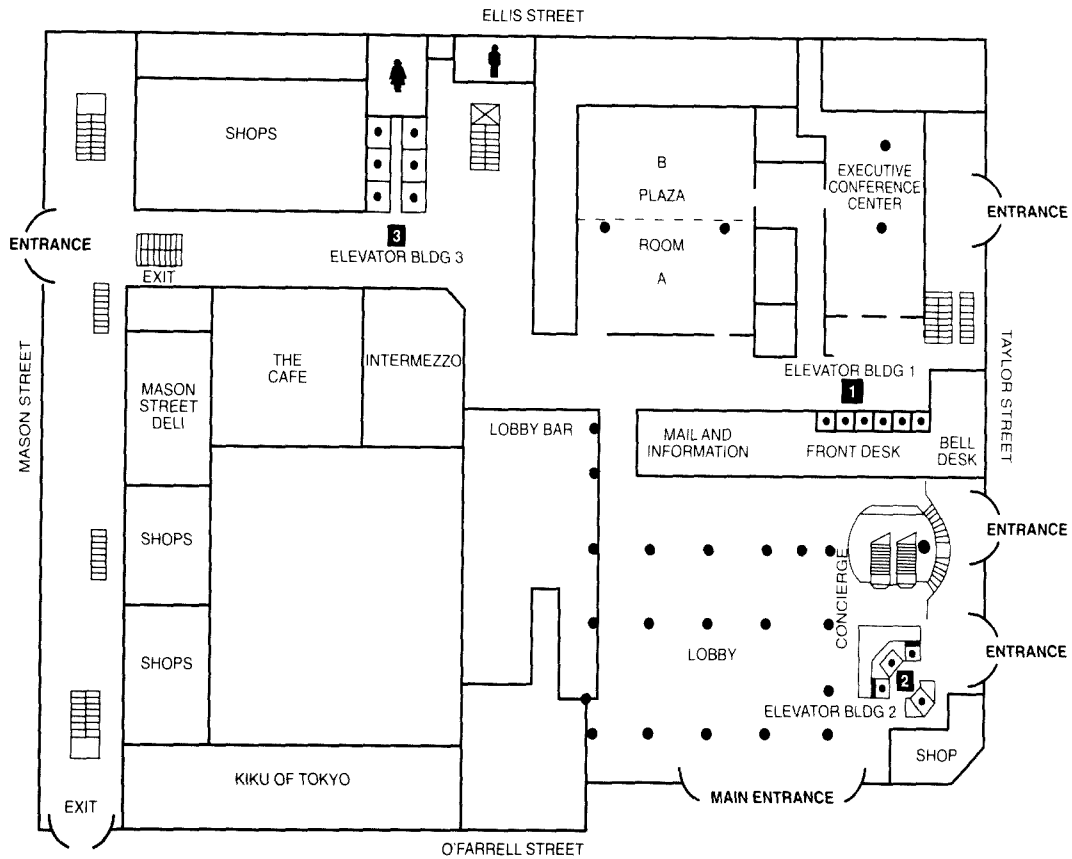

To record scholarly sessions, follow scholarly convention and obtain permission of the person to be recorded and the organizer of the session. There should be no publication of such material without following scholarly procedure regarding permission and citation.

SESSION SMOKING BAN

On November 19, 1989, the Board of Directors adopted a motion requesting that persons in attendance refrain from smoking at all sessions and meetings. We ask those who attend this meeting to comply with this motion. In working toward a goal of a smoke-free convention, we also ask that people only smoke outdoors, and particularly not to smoke in common areas, such as hallways, exhibit halls, and foyers near the meeting rooms.

ACCESSIBILITYFrom the AAA Commission on Disability:

Space for disabled persons is reserved at the back of each meeting room. The Commission requests that this space be left available for those persons requiring it. Thank you.

BUILDING TECHNOLOGY AND SETTLEMENT PLANNING IN A WEST AFRICAN CIVILIZATION: Precolonial Akan Cities and Towns by V. K. Tarikhu Farrar

This study examines the traditional or indigenous building technology, architecture, and settlement order of the Akan peoples of the southern half of what is now the Republic of Ghana. Building construction is considered in terms of the body of skills, techniques, and organization of labor that evolved over time; the range of building materials used, and their characteristics, acquisition, and handling; and finally, in terms of the formal, structural, and aesthetic qualities of the buildings themselves. Also considered is the range of settlement types; their spatial layouts and organization, their relationships within the hierarchy of settlements, and the ways in which settlements came into existence and developed through time. It places the growth of the Akan building traditions and settlement order in the broader contexts of history, and culture growth and change. In this connection, it offers observations on the roots of Akan building technology/architecture, and the evolution of the settlement order. 0-7734-2262-5 $89.95 234pp. 1996

PERSPECTIVES ON RACE AND CULTURE IN JAPANESE SOCIETY: The Mass Media and Ethnicity by Peter B. Oblas

Merging various related disciplines in a single work, it examines the latest archaeological excavations and recent Japanese interpretations, biology, genetics, and paleoanthropology in terms of their contribution to an understanding of racial origins. .

". . . provides us with an insight into some of the current debates in Japanese anthropological circles, as between Namio Egami and Makoto Sahara. . . . recommended to both students and faculty interested in learning more about the Japanese mass media's treatment of the study of Japanese anthropological roots, the 'who we are and how we differ from other people racially'. Explorations and Discoveries in the Amazon Rain Forest

Wade Davis

"A captivating tale of stalwart explorers, of mentors and students, drawn alike by the siren call of the tropical forest, its plants and its people. Wade Davis writes from the heart about an intellectual river as old as Socrates and as fresh as this morning's dew: teacher and student, forest and people bound together in a dream one hopes will never end."

IN SEARCH OF THE OLD ONES

Exploring the Anasazi World of the Southwest

David Roberts

In Search of the Old Ones is a rich, popular account of America's greatest prehistoric mystery: the sudden disappearance of the Anasazi, the cliff-dwelling Indians who vanished from the Southwest in the 13th century. David Roberts, who has explored the Southwest for decades, interviewed scholars, park rangers, and Indian descendants of the Anasazi to unearth the history, culture, and architecture of this vanished people.

CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY: A PROBLEM-BASED APPROACH
Second Edition

Richard H. Robbins
State University of New York, Plattsburgh

The second edition of this widely adopted text continues to provide a fresh, new look at cultural anthropology. Organized around problems rather than topics, it allows for a natural and integrated discussion of such traditional cultural anthropology topics as kinship, caste, gender roles, and religion within the context of meaningful questions.

Extensive comparisons of world cultures with American culture encourage students to recognize their own cultural perspectives as a basis for understanding other cultures. Exercises and simulations that can be used for written assignments, class discussion, or group work are provided throughout. An instructor's manual and test bank will be available.

The second edition includes discussions of questions dealing with classroom culture, professional wrestling, the Industrial Revolution, witches, tarot cards, Christmas gift-giving, and attempts to link intelligence and class.

This is an outstanding book. Each chapter focuses on a single theme in a way that not only engages the student but manages to cover the key issues in contemporary cultural anthropology. The book is highly substantive, for it covers a large body of material, and it never loses sight of the significance of the issues and information presented.

WOMEN IN BETWEEN

Female Roles in a Male World: Mount Hagen, New Guinea
By Marilyn Strathern

In 1971 Marilyn Strathern provided what has now become a classic ethnographic text, Women In Between. Significantly, this pioneering contribution to feminist anthropology focuses on gender relations rather than on women alone. Re-issued now, Women in Between examines the attitudes of the Hagen people and analyzes the power of women in their male-dominated system.

THE TWO-PARTY LINE

Conversations in the Field
By Jane Goodale

"The Two-Party Line is a retrospective glimpse of an almost unique kind—an anthropological conversation from the 1960s between two fieldworkers, living by themselves but within communicating distance, and sharing experiences at once common and divergent. A wonderful historical document. This is a gem of a book." —Marilyn Strathern, University of Cambridge

TASTING FOOD, TASTING FREEDOM

Excursions into Eating,
Culture, and the Past
Sidney W. Mintz

Mintz's title essay explores how enslaved Africans expressed hope for freedom in the adaptation of their cuisine to New World conditions. Other essays consider such issues as why we should care about whether there is an American cuisine, and why Americans keep getting heavier. From the co-author of The Birth of African-American Culture. "Succinct and well-argued . . . thought-provoking." —Booklist

"At last we return to the staging ground of All Our Kin. Carol Stack has rejoined the story twenty years later, to write about African Americans going home, returning south to the old 'proving ground' chastened (and sometimes fortified) by the years spent away." —Kim Hopper,

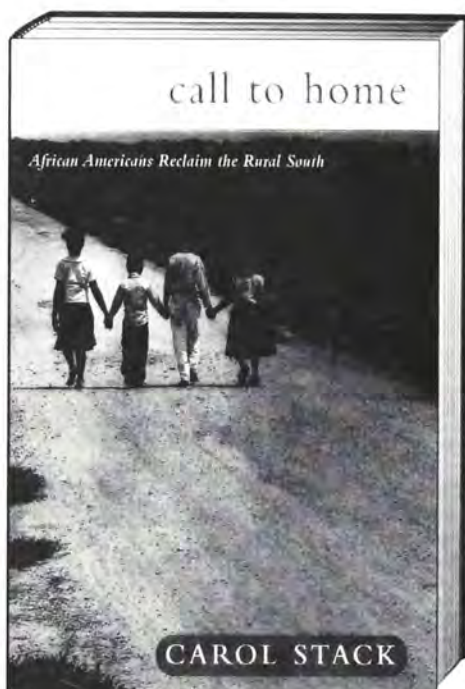

The Nathan S. Kline Institute,
author of A Bed for the Night

"Once again, Carol Stack sheds light on and helps us understand a little-known part of the America of poor blacks."

—Herbert J. Gans, Professor of

WHY I CAN'T READ WALLACE STEGNER AND OTHER ESSAYS

A Tribal Voice

Elizabeth Cook-Lynn

"Cook-Lynn makes clear the myriad ways that native voices are routinely silenced, ignored, and overwhelmed as native people attempt to gain control over their own futures. Hers is an agonized vision."—Kathryn W. Shanley, Cornell University

THE CULTURAL DIALECTICS OF KNOWLEDGE AND DESIRE

Charles W. Nuckolls

With a Foreword by Stephen A. Tyler

In his examination of kinship relations among the Jalaris of South India, Nuckolls analyzes the cultural conflict between passion and reason—between Freud and Weber—by synthesizing the rational and the emotional in one approach to cultural knowledge. cl. $60.00, pa. $24.95

THE TONGUE IS FIRE

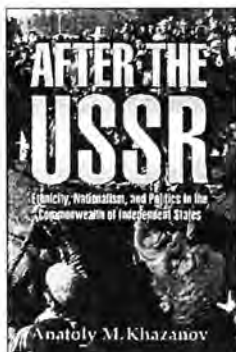

South African Storytellers and Apartheid
Harold Scheub

Here are the authentic voices of rural South Africans under apartheid: Swati, Xhosa, Ndebele, and Zulu storytellers who resisted apartheid in their own way, using myth and metaphor to preserve their traditions and confront their oppressors.

ANTHROPOLOGY 1997

HAVILAND, ANTHROPOLOGY, EIGHTH EDITION

The best-selling introductory anthropology textbook on the market. Haviland integrates the research and ideas of several schools of anthropology. The book offers a straightforward and thorough presentation of the principles and processes of both physical and cultural anthropology. The inclusive text exposes students to a variety of approaches such as evolutionism, historical particularities, diffusionism, and functionalism among others.
0-15-503578-9

HAVILAND, HUMAN EVOLUTION AND PREHISTORY, FOURTH EDITION

Designed for introductory courses that combine physical anthropology and prehistoric archaeology, Human Evolution and Prehistory offers a comprehensive and balanced presentation of theoretical views. It focuses on selected aspects of physical anthropology and prehistoric archaeology as they relate to the origin of humanity, the origin of culture, and the development of human biological and cultural diversity. 0-15-503579-7

HAVILAND, CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY, EIGHTH EDITION, 1996

This classic introduction to the principles and processes of cultural anthropology provides a comprehensive study of concepts, terminology, research, and ideas drawn from many schools of anthropological thought. 0-15-502141-9

ANGKOR WAT: Time, Space, and Kingship

Eleanor Mannikka

ISBN: 0-8248-1720-6, $55.00 cloth

Angkor Wat, with its magnificent towers silhouetted against the rising sun, is one of the most awe-inspiring architectural visions in the world. Despite its impressive exterior, very little was known about it, until now.... Mannikka has found the key to its understanding—unlocking the temple to the stars by defining how time, space, kingship, and divinity exist inseparably from each other. Discover the hidden secrets of Angkor Wat.

Mayfield Publishing Company and the American Anthropological Association proudly present a volume that addresses a wide range of teachers' concerns:

The Teaching of Anthropology:
Problems, Issues, and Decisions

Conrad Phillip Kottak, Jane J. White,
Richard H. Furlow, and Patricia C. Rice, Editors

This collection brings together the insights of more than 40 leading teachers in the field; most of the articles were first developed for the symposia on teaching held at the annual meetings of the American Anthropological Association in 1990, 1991, and 1992. The articles span the educational continuum, from teaching the introductory course to teaching pre-collegiate teachers. As a professional reference text, it is a book that no current—or future—teacher of anthropology should be without.

A percentage of the proceeds from the sale of this book will be used to establish a teaching award jointly sponsored by Mayfield and the American Anthropological Association.

SENSES OF PLACE

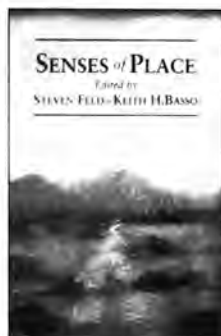

EDITED BY STEVEN FELD AND KEITH H. BASSO

A compelling new volume in which eight ethnographers explore and lyrically evoke the ways in which places are experienced, expressed, imagined, and known as cultural phenomena. Case studies range from the Apaches of Arizona's White Mountains to the residents of backwoods "hollers" in Appalachia and the Kaluh people of Papua New Guinea's rainforests.

"The ethnography of place is, if anything, more critical for those of us who are apt to imagine that all places are alike than for those who, listening to forests or experiencing stones, know better." —From the Afterword by Clifford Geertz

Contributors are Keith H. Basso, Karen I. Blu, Edward S. Casey, Steven Feld, Charles O. Frake, Clifford Geertz, Miriam Kahn, and Kathleen C. Stewart.

SOME ATTENTION has focused in recent years on our dependence, as professional anthropologists, on large institutions – many of them governmental – for the funding of our discipline. Fortunately, large institutions often find a place for anthropology in their scheme, but we are seldom accorded a high priority and we are seldom in a position to sway their decisions. Much as we all need to see such support for anthropology maintained and indeed increased, anthropologists do not perhaps always reflect enough on the importance of the independent associations such as the AAA and the Royal Anthropological Institute, governed entirely by anthropologists and accountable to the discipline.

Like the AAA, the RAI is seeking to gain wider recognition for the public utility of anthropology, and at the same time to build up its resources for the future. A tangible result of our fund-raising policy is the foundation of two research bursaries at British universities awarded by periodic international competition, the Leach/RAI Fellowship in Social Anthropology and the RAI Fellowship in Urgent Anthropology (funded by the Anthropologists' Fund for Research in Urgent Anthropology; Founding Sponsor: George N. Appell).

We provide Fellows of the RAI with mailing of two leading journals, the Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute (named Man until 1995) and Anthropology Today, and thus we aim to give value for money.

However, by joining the RAI you are also supporting the organization as a whole in our endeavours to promote anthropology and maintain anthropology's reputation.

The support of North American anthropologists, in many different ways, has been invaluable to the RAI in the past. We do not take this for granted and will continue to strive to be worthy of it.

Roland Littlewood, President, Royal Anthropological Institute

The quarterly Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute (incorporating Man) and the bimonthly Anthropology Today are both included in the Overseas Fellows' subscription of $83 (for 1997) or Junior Fellows' rate of $48 (for those under 30 on 1.1.97). 'Members' receive Anthropology Today for $25. Library subscriptions are $147 for JRAI, $49 for Anthropology Today. You may pay by Visa, Access/MasterCard or American Express, or by a US$ or sterling check. Enquiries to RAI, 50 Fitzroy Street, London W1P 5HS. (Tel.
