UNDERSTANDING THE CHINESE PERSONALITY: Parenting, Schooling, Values, Morality, Relations, and Personality by William J. F. Lew

"This book is a magnum opus in many senses of the term. . . . The book's focus is on human development across the life span, but its scope is truly multidisciplinary. Lew discusses differences between Chinese and Western people that have been a central issue in anthropology, questions about social structure that are basic to sociology, and analyses of historical change in Chinese nations that are important topics in political science. . . . Through the biographical interviews and autobiographical case studies, Professor Lew gives life to events such as the Cultural Revolution." - Thomas H. Berndt, Head of Department of Psychological Sciences, Purdue University

Fourth Edition

0-202-02041-X Cloth $58.95 • 0-202-02042-8 Paper $31.95

For this long-awaited new edition of his classic introduction to the field, Campbell has revised and updated the text throughout. Once again he presents a complete and integrated description of the evolution of Homo sapiens by synthesizing the major findings of research and theory up to the present, including developments in microbiology and the extended fossil record. Campbell's text remains the most lucid and comprehensive account of human evolution in a single volume.

Multicultural Feminism in a Transnational Age

This multivoiced collection of essays challenges traditional disciplinary and cultural boundaries, and moves beyond any unified feminist historical narrative to present a "relational" feminism of diverse communities, affiliations, and practices. The texts/images partake of many genres: reflective essay, testimonial dialogue, performance piece, digital collage, prose poem, and photomontage. Forging connections between usually compartmentalized areas of knowledge and of activism, the volume helps us to envision alternative epistemologies and imaginative alliances.

Contributors include: M. Jacqui Alexander, Meena Alexander, Marina Alvarez, Maria Magdalena Campos-Pons, Shu Lea Cheang, Mallika Dutt, Coco Fusco, Renée Green, Inderpal Grewal, Guerrilla Girls, Jamelie Hassan, Mervat F. Bronka Schneider and her husband, Joseph, were two of the 30,000 Austrian Jews admitted as refugees to Great Britain between March 1938 and 2 September 1939. CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY

Ninth Edition

Carol R. Ember and Melvin Ember

THE NINTH EDITION REPRESENTS THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE REVISION TO DATE—reflecting the most recent anthropological research and controversial developments. Integrating new features in each chapter, this text is designed to spark and maintain student interest. In addition to the text, a new CD-ROM is blister-packed into the back of every book. Developed by Object Learning Environment, Inc., this CD-ROM coincides with the book's chapters and provides quizzes, exercises, and portions of the text for additional definitions. Also, an interactive website offers students online quizzes and links to anthropological resources on the World Wide Web.

ANTHROPOLOGY
Noel T. Boaz and
Alan J. Almquist

USING EVOLUTION AS A FRAME-WORK FOR STUDENT LEARNING.

this brief text covers all of the core concepts found in a typical Physical or Biological Anthropology course. With a micro to macro focus, it looks first at the origins of life and ends with the origins and development of humans, while helping students to place humans into the broader context of life on the planet.

CELEBRATING 30 YEARS OF PUBLISHING

F. E. Peacock Publishers, Inc.

CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY: A PROBLEM-BASED APPROACH, SECOND EDITION

Richard H. Robbins State University of New York, Plattsburgh

The second edition of this widely adopted text continues to provide a fresh, new look at cultural anthropology. Organized around problems rather than topics, it allows for a natural and integrated discussion of such traditional cultural anthropology topics as kinship, caste, gender roles, and religion within the context of meaningful questions.

Extensive comparisons of world cultures encourage students to recognize their own cultural perspectives. Exercises and simulations that can be used for written assignments, class discussion, or group work are provided throughout. An instructor's resource guide and test bank is available.

This is an outstanding book. Each chapter focuses on a single theme in a way that not only engages the student but manages to cover the key issues in contemporary cultural anthropology. The book is highly substantive, for it covers a large body of material, and it never loses sight of the significance of the issues and information presented. —Elvin Hatch, University of California, Santa Barbara

New from the Royal Anthropological Institute ■

After the usual three years of service, Simon Harrison has handed over the Honorary Editorship of the JRAI to James Carrier, of the University of Durham. As ever, submissions are welcomed across the whole range of anthropology, and the policy is to maintain the highest international standards. The new Reviews Editor, succeeding James Carrier, is Filippo Osella. ■

Among major articles published by Anthropology Today this year are 'Breast cancer: reading the omens' by Margaret Lock, 'Living gods' by Roland Littlewood, 'The politicization of culture' by Susan Wright, 'Who owns the Rotonda? Church vs. State in Greece' by Charles Stewart, and 'Why did the Nazis kill?' by Alex Hinton. ■

The Institute's free Internet service, ANTHROPOLOGICAL INDEX ONLINE, by means of which the titles of journal articles dating back to 1986 held in the Museum of Mankind Library may be searched, has attracted a very large number of searches, especially from North America. Funding is guaranteed till the end of 1999, and the intention is that in due course the service will become financially self-supporting. Search on <http://lucy.ukc.ac.uk/AIO.html> ■

The Institute continues its efforts to raise research funds for anthropology. Details of the RAI/Goldsmiths Fellowship in Urgent Anthropology (University of London), funded by the Anthropologists' Fund for Urgent Anthropological Research (Founding Sponsor: George N. Appell) will be found in Anthropology Today. A substantial grant has also been raised from the Diana, Princess of Wales, Memorial Fund to help found a new Centre for Child Focused Anthropological Research at Brunel University, West London, which will be launched in 1999. ■

The Sixth International Festival of Ethnographic Film was successfully held in London on 17-19 September 1998, the usual biennial film prize competition being combined with a conference organized by Goldsmiths College relating anthropology to contemporary visual art. ■

The quarterly Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute (incorporating Man) and the bimonthly Anthropology Today are both included in the Overseas Fellows' subscription of $90 (for 1999) or 'Junior Fellows' rate of $52 (for those under 30 on 1.1.99). 'Members' receive Anthropology Today for $27. Library subscriptions are $159 for JRAI, $53 for Anthropology Today. You may pay by Visa, Access/MasterCard or American Express, or by a US$ or sterling check. Enquiries to RAI, 50 Fitzroy Street, London W1P 5HS. Tel. (+44) 171 387 0455, fax (+44) 171 383 4235.
