Topic Index

The following indexes scientific sessions by general topic. It is not an index of individual papers but a guide to sessions treating these topics. It should also be noted that this index is largely compiled from key words supplied by authors. This accounts for some inconsistencies in coverage.

Essential reading

SOCIAL ANTHROPOLOGY

Published for the European Association of Social Anthropologists

Editor:

Jean-Claude GALEY,

Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Sciences Sociales, Paris

Social Anthropology is an international journal that serves the needs of all scholars with an interest in social anthropology. Not only does it publish some of the best scholarship available, but it acts as a forum for debate about key issues and concepts in the field, challenging and re-examining the boundaries of the discipline.

MATERIAL CULTURE

Henry Glassie

As noted scholar Henry Glassie puts it, "The concept of culture seems a secure achievement. In the future, history and art, as well as science and philosophy, will be understood to be, like culture, the creations of people who are alike in humanity, but different in tradition and predicament."

ADVANCED SEMINAR SERIES

CRITICAL ANTHROPOLOGY NOW
Unexpected Contexts, Shifting Constituencies, Changing Agendas
Edited by George E. Marcus

Picking up where Writing Culture left off, ten innovative ethnographic projects demonstrate how new and more complex locations of research are giving rise to shifts in the character of both fieldwork and fieldworker.

REGIMES OF LANGUAGE
Ideologies, Politics, and Identities
Edited by Paul V. Kroskrity

Ten leading linguistic anthropologists integrate two often segregated domains: politics and language. Essays address the role of language ideologies in state formation, nationalism, and ethnic group maintenance and in creating national, ethnic, and professional identities.

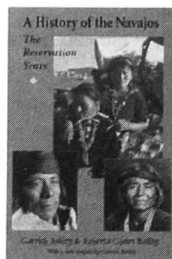

THE ORIGINS OF LANGUAGE
What Nonhuman Primates Can Tell Us
Edited by Barbara J. King

Primatologists and paleoanthropologists conduct a comprehensive examination of the nonhuman primate data to fashion more rigorous theories of language origins and evolution, making a powerful case against the position that language is a system unique to humans.

In honor of the recent centennial birthday of pioneering ethnographer Lorna J. Marshall, the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology is pleased to announce the publication of. . .

Nyae Nyae !Kung; Beliefs and Rites

Lorna Marshall leads the reader through the intricacies, ambiguities, and silences of !Kung beliefs. Her narrative, situated amongst the Bushmen of the Kalahari in the early 1950s, brings into focus a way of life that had existed for millennia. She presents the culture, beliefs, and spirituality of one of the last true hunting and gathering peoples by speaking directly to them, engaging members of different bands and revealing their views and emotions. This account explores a detailed system of beliefs, one in which two primal forces (N/ow and N/um) infuse everything and everyone. The book also depicts a true egalitarian lifestyle based on sharing and group awareness, which, sadly, did not completely survive the transformation into an imposed "modern" way of life.

A companion to Marshall's 1976 work The !Kung of Nyae Nyae, this volume is not only a unique ethnographic snapshot of a vibrant hunter/gatherer belief system, it also provides invaluable insight into just how well that society and belief system functioned.

Adaptation and Human Behavior

An Anthropological Perspective

2000 • approx. 528 pages • References, index
0-202-02043-6 Cloth $69.95 • 0-202-02044-4 Paper $34.95

This collection of state-of-the-art studies in the field of human behavioral ecology redefines the discipline for a new generation of scholars and students. Eighteen chapters use data from over twenty societies to explore human behavioral adaptation, while a final chapter looks at how far the approach has come and where it may go.

Rooted in America

FOODLORE OF POPULAR FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Edited by David Scofield Wilson and Angus Kress Gillespie

This book explores ten familiar cultivars—apples, bananas, corn, cranberries, peppers, oranges, pumpkins, tobacco, tomatoes, and watermelons—to show how they have become entwined with the American way of life.

256 pages, illustrations, ISBN 1-57233-052-X, $38.00 cloth

ISBN 1-57233-053-8, $16.95 paper

In the Vineyard

WORKING IN AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES

Perry A. Hall

A prominent African American Studies scholar explores the political, cultural, and intellectual issues that have shaped the discipline. As an alternative to the popular "Afrocentric" approach, he posits a "transformationist" paradigm that builds on W. E. B. Du Bois's notions of double-consciousness.

PUBLIC CULTURE

Society for Transnational Cultural Studies

Announcing the MILLENNIAL QUARTET

a series of special issues addressing thematic of global processes

After ten years at the vanguard of cultural criticism on the global scene, Public Culture announces a new series of special issues devoted to the questions that most exercise researchers thinking and writing about cultures today. The Millennial Quartet convenes an energetic dialogue of critical voices, sounding off on hotly contested questions of capital, culture, and modernity. Look to the new issues of the Millennial Quartet for thoughtful probings into the foundations of the debates and for the standard of inquiry into the field of global and local cultural tensions.

Transforming Academia

Challenges and Opportunities for an Engaged Anthropology

Linda G. Basch, Lucie Wood Saunders, Jagna Wojcicka Sharff, and James Peacock, eds.

Transforming Academia is an ethnography of higher education by authors located at the highest levels of academic administration and teaching. It addresses the structural and cultural transformations presently challenging academia, and identifies ways anthropologists, using the tools of the discipline, can bring anthropological analyses and perspectives to the discourse of higher education. It also urges, and provides several examples of how, anthropologists can become part of the solution in their own institutions.

"A first-rate example of an engaged anthropology that speaks not just to anthropologists but to others who are concerned about the current state of higher education." —Louise Lamphere

"[This book] will surely be among the published works that help us to understand and respond to the kind of cultural complexity and diversity that characterize the global society of our times." —Johnnetta Cole

"Transforming Academia's authors include a star-studded cast of anthropologists with experience at the highest levels of academic administration, and throughout academia in a wide variety of institutions and positions." —Jane Hill

Transforming Academia (ISBN 0-913167-92-4) is now selling for $12.50 to AAA members ($15.00 for nonmembers). There is a discount on orders of 10 or more copies. MasterCard and VISA accepted. Prepayment is required for all orders. Virginia residents add 4.5% sales tax.

ANTHROPOLOGY & EDUCATION QUARTERLY

Authenticity and Identity: Lessons from Indigenous Language Education

Edited by Rosemary Henze and Kathryn A. Davis

How do people define and negotiate notions of identity and authenticity in different contexts of indigenous language education? Anyone interested in the maintenance or renewal of heritage languages, language varieties, and cultural practices will want to read these cases on sparsely documented language revitalization efforts in Alaska, California, Hawai'i, and the Solomon Islands. Joshua Fishman provides final comments and reflections.

Authenticity and Identity (AEQ 30:1) is available for $12.00 (AAA members pay $9.00). For information on bulk orders (10 or more copies) or to order with VISA or MasterCard, call the AAA Book Orders Department at (703) 528-1902, ext. 3031.

MUCH-AWAITED REVISIONS OF POPULAR TEXTS

ANTHROPOLOGICAL THEORY: An Introductory History, Second Edition

by R. Jon McGee and Richard L. Warmis

A comprehensive and accessible survey of the history of theory in anthropology, this anthology of classic readings contains in-depth commentary in the form of introductions and notes to help guide students through seminal anthropological works. (Now available!)

BIOLOGICAL ANTHROPOLOGY: An Introductory Reader, Second Edition

by Michael Alan Park

This supplementary reader is composed of both historical and contemporary articles that demonstrate the significant contributions made by biological anthropology. (Available January, '00)

CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY: Tribes, States, and the Global System, Third Edition

by John H. Bodley

This text introduces basic concepts of cultural anthropology by comparing cultures of increasing scale and focusing on specific universal issues. (Now available!)

DISCOVERING OUR PAST: A Brief Introduction to Archaeology, Third Edition

by Wendy Ashmore and Robert J. Sharer

A brief, inexpensive introduction to the techniques, methods, and theoretical frameworks of contemporary archaeology. (Now available!)

THE HUMAN SPECIES: An Introduction to Biological Anthropology, Fourth Edition

by John H. Relethford

This general introduction to contemporary biological (physical) anthropology presents balanced coverage of the major components of the field: genetics and evolutionary theory, human variation, human evolution, and the biology, behavior, and evolution of primates. (Now available!)

MYSTERY FOSSIL, A Physical Anthropology Laboratory Exercise, Version 3.0

by John T. Omohundro

Now on CD-ROM, in full color, and available for both Windows and Macintosh operating systems, this computer program and its corresponding workbook simulate a physical anthropology laboratory experience and teach students to think like paleoanthropologists. (Available Winter, '00)

THE PAST IN PERSPECTIVE: An Introduction to Human Prehistory, Second Edition

by Kenneth L. Feder

This engaging and accessible introduction to the human prehistoric past presents the chronicle of human physical and cultural evolution. Rather than an encyclopedic, all-inclusive survey of human evolution, this text presents human prehistory within a framework of themes, issues, and debates. (Now available!)

NEW TITLES

CORE CONCEPTS IN CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY

by Robert H. Lavenda and Emily A. Schultz

Brief and affordable, this introduction to the basic ideas and practices of contemporary cultural anthropology offers readers what they need to know in order to read cultural anthropology effectively. (Now available!)

THE GURU'S GIFT: An Ethnography Exploring Gender Equality with North American Sikh Women, by Cynthia Keppley Mahmood and Stacy Brady

This ethnography looks at North American Sikh young women who have started wearing turbans as a symbol of the empowerment their faith guarantees. This "reciprocal ethnography" highlights both the voices of the 13 women interviewed and the collaborative research effort of a professor and her undergraduate student. (Available December, '99)

INTRODUCING ANTHROPOLOGY: An Integrated Approach

by Michael Alan Park

This brief introduction to anthropology discusses the core areas of the discipline within a unique, integrated biocultural framework. (Available December, '99)

NUTRITIONAL ANTHROPOLOGY: Biocultural Perspectives on Food and Nutrition, by Alan H. Goodman, Darna L. Dufour, and Gretel H. Peltó

This collection of readings exposes students to the breadth of theoretical viewpoints and issues in the field of nutritional anthropology. (Now available!)

VIRTUAL DIG: A Simulated Archaeological Excavation of a Middle Paleolithic Site in France, by Harold L. Dibble, Shannon P. McPherron, and Barbara Roth

This combination of workbook and CD-ROM takes students to a "virtual field school" where they can carry out an excavation using real data. (Now available!)

Looking for Anthropologists?

Find them in the new AAA Guide and at www.aaanet.org!

The 1999-2000 AAA Guide is now available!

The AAA Guide is the premier information resource for anthropology in the United States and Canada. It includes a directory of AAA members and a listing of hundreds of US and foreign anthropology departments.

The 620-page AAA Guide is available to AAA members for $40 ($75 for nonmembers). To order your copy of the AAA Guide for delivery in October, contact AAA Member Services.

New this year . . . Debuting alongside the latest edition of the AAA Guide is the AAA Resource Center—your online guide to the anthropological community! It contains the 543 anthropology departments that were compiled for publication in the AAA 1999-2000 Guide—in an easy-to-use, searchable listing of anthropology programs, academic departments, museums, research firms, and government agencies.

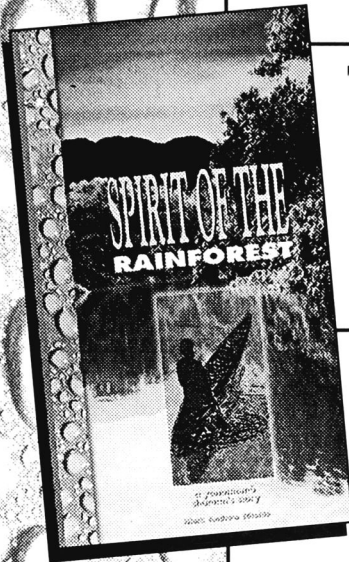

The new AAA Resource Center also provides, exclusively for members and purchasers of the AAA Guide, access to individual faculty of anthropological programs, searchable by both areas of specialization and location.

Note that the electronic guide is available for free on www.aaanet.org for a limited time only—until January 1, 2000! In the meantime, the AAA offers you this “review copy”—we urge you to explore this valuable new service and give us your feedback.

Introducing the highly anticipated second edition of A Yanomamö Shaman's Story

Spirit of the Rainforest:

A Yanomamö Shaman's Story

ISBN: 0-9646952-7-5

288 Pages, $14.95

Paper

The second edition of Spirit of the Rainforest: A Yanomamö Shaman's Story is available today! New information details Shoefoot's travels to anthropology classrooms across the US and to a recent AAA conference.

"We would kill as many men as we could, rape the women, and take some back to our village."

*Shoefoot, headman of Honey Village
Natural History, March 1997*

"There is an uncomfortable irony here for us all: that those who are studied might offer their own self-understanding in place of our ethnographics."

*Neil Whitehead,
University of Wisconsin, Madison
American Anthropology, June 1998*

"Opens the psyche of the Yanomami like no other book... a notable contribution to an existing record of three decades of Yanomami writings in the western world. This is a 'must' read for any student of shamanism or of the Yanomami... sobering and gripping. Once I began reading, I was hooked."

*John F. Peters,
Wilfrid Laurier University*

"My students were so passionate over it they almost came to blows discussing it."

*Thomas Headland,
University of Texas at Arlington*

□ New from the Royal Anthropological Institute □

□ As from January 2000, the RAI's journals JRAI and Anthropology Today will be published by Blackwells, enabling the Institute to keep up to date with marketing and electronic publishing techniques while maintaining complete independence and editorial control. The respective Editors, James Carrier and Jonathan Benthall, may be contacted at the Chicago Meeting via the Blackwells exhibition booth, no. 1517.

□ The Institute's Internet service, Anthropological Index Online, will continue to be free during 2000; but institutional 'frequent users' have been invited to help by paying a voluntary subscription at a suggested level of $400 for the year. A leaflet has been widely circulated with two tear-out slips, one for librarians to send with their voluntary subscriptions, and a second for individual users to send to their librarians asking them to consider subscribing. A number of well-known university libraries have decided to cooperate. Search on <http://lucy.ukc.ac.uk/AIO.html>

□ For the first time, the Institute is now sponsoring three Research Fellowships concurrently: the Leach/RAI Fellowship in Social Anthropology (now at the University of Edinburgh), the RAI Fellowship in Urgent Anthropology (now at Goldsmiths College, University of London, supported by the Anthropologists' Fund for Urgent Anthropological Research - Founding Sponsor: Dr George N. Appell), and the new Fellowship in Child-Focussed Anthropological Research at Brunel University, West London (supported by the Diana, Princess of Wales Memorial Fund). Announcements of these international opportunities are published regularly in Anthropology Today.

□ These and other developments - including the Seventh International Festival of Ethnographic Film, to be hosted by the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London, from 16-20 December 2000 - require the support of a strong membership base. If you are not a member, please consider joining. North American participation in the work of the Institute has always been vital, and continues to be so.

The quarterly Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute (incorporating Man) and the bimonthly Anthropology Today are both included in the Overseas Fellows' subscription of $94 (for 2000) or 'Junior Fellows' rate of $54 (for those under 30 on 1.1.2000). 'Members' receive Anthropology Today for $28. Library subscriptions are $179 for JRAI, $58 for Anthropology Today. You may pay by Visa, MasterCard or American Express, or by a US$ or sterling check. Enquiries to RAI, 50 Fitzroy Street, London W1P 5HS. Tel. (+) 44 171 387 0455, fax 44 171 383 4235.
