A Journey Around Our America

A Memoir on Cycling, Immigration, and the Latinoization of the U.S.

BY LOUIS G. MENDOZA

With a discernment of the American character that recalls Alexis de Tocqueville, this riveting account of the author's 8,500-mile bicycle journey around the United States offers a unique firsthand perspective on how Latino immigrants are changing the face of our country.

THE WILLIAM AND BETTYE NOWLIN SERIES IN ART, HISTORY, AND CULTURE OF THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE

$25.00 paperback
$55.00 hardcover

Juan in a Hundred

The Representation of Latinos on Network News

BY OTTO SANTA ANA

A timely, accessible study—bolstered by startling statistics—of the sparse coverage of Latinos on network evening news and the social inequity perpetuated by the frequently negative tone of the few news stories that do spotlight Latinos.

$24.95 paperback
$60.00 hardcover

Killer on the Road

Violence and the American Interstate

BY GINGER STRAND

True crime meets cultural history in this fascinating story of how America's interstate highway system opened a world of mobility and opportunity—for serial killers. Discovering America, Mark Crispin Miller, Series Editor
18 B&W photos, 4 maps
$25.00 hardcover

Kuna Art and Shamanism

An Ethnographic Approach

BY PAOLO FORTIS

The first book to study woodcarving and its relation to shamanism among Kuna people from the San Blas Archipelago, providing a rich new lens for understanding the Kuna worldview.

Lowrider Space

Aesthetics and Politics of Mexican American Custom Cars

BY BEN CHAPPELL

The first ethnographic book devoted to lowrider custom car culture puts a new spin on an aesthetic and mechanical achievement through which Mexican Americans alter the urban landscape and make a place for themselves in an often segregated society.

36 B&W and 13 color photos

$55.00 hardcover

Mexico and Mexicans in the Making of the United States

EDITED BY JOHN TUTINO
Tracing economic, social, and cultural connections from colonial times until today, this book highlights the foundational contributions of Mexico and Mexicans to the United States—Hispanic capitalism, patriarchy, and mestizaje, or ethnic blending.

Current Anthropology introduces

The Wenner-Gren Symposium Series

The Wenner-Gren Symposium Series is a biannual series of supplements that publishes papers from Wenner-Gren-sponsored symposia. Each symposium brings together international scholars for discussion of topical issues in the field. Print copies of the supplements are mailed to current CA subscribers in conjunction with regularly scheduled issues of the journal. The Wenner-Gren Symposium Series is also available electronically on the journal's web site. All supplements are open access, which brings the results of leading anthropological research and debate to the widest possible audience.

The first five supplements in the series—Working Memory: Beyond Language and Symbolism, Engaged Anthropology: Diversity and Dilemmas, Corporate Lives: New Perspectives on the Social Life of the Corporate Form, The Origins of Agriculture: New Data, New Ideas, and The Biological Anthropology of Living Human Populations: World Histories, National Styles, and International Networks—are currently available online.

Future supplements include Human Biology and the Origins of Homo and Humanness and Potentiality: Revisiting the Anthropological Object in the Context of New Medical Technologies.

Explore the Wenner-Gren Symposium Series online today at

Indiana University Press/Journals

NEW JOURNAL

Spectrum: A Journal on Black Men

Edited by Judson L. Jeffries, Terrell L. Strayhorn

Spectrum: A Journal on Black Men is a multidisciplinary research journal whose articles focus on issues related to aspects of Black men's experiences, including such topics as gender, masculinities, and race/ethnicity. Spectrum examines the social, political, economic, and historical factors that influence the life chances and experiences of African-descended males using disciplinary and interdisciplinary theoretical perspectives, empirical methods, theoretical analysis, and literary criticism.

African Conflict and Peacebuilding Review (ACPR)

Edited by Abu Bakarr Bah, Mark Davidheiser, Tricia Redeker Hepner, and Niklas Hultin

African Conflict and Peacebuilding Review (ACPR) is an interdisciplinary forum for creative and rigorous studies of conflict and peace in Africa and for discussions between scholars, practitioners, and public intellectuals.

The Global South

Edited by Adetayo Alabi

The Global South is an interdisciplinary journal that focuses on how world literatures and cultures respond to globalization on issues of the environment, poverty, immigration, gender, cultural formation and transformation, colonialism and postcolonialism, modernity and postmodernity, diasporas and resistance, and counter discourse.

Indiana Journal of Global Legal Studies

Edited by Alfred C. Aman, Jr., Hannah L. Buxbaum, Jost Delbrück, and Christina O'Chao

Indiana Journal of Global Legal Studies, IJGLS is instrumental in creating a new and important body of scholarship, as well as an analytical framework that will enhance understanding of the nature of law and society in the current global era.

Transition: An International Review

Edited by Tommie Shelby, Glenda Carpio, and Vincent Brown

Transition features an international review of politics, culture, and ethnicity, unusual dispatches, unforgettable memoirs, unorthodox polemics, unlikely conversations, and unsurpassed original fiction.

ANNUAL REVIEWS

Celebrating 80 Years of Excellence

American Anthropological Association Members Save 20%!

Annual Reviews journals operate as a high-quality filter, prioritizing and synthesizing the primary research literature in 41 disciplines within the Biomedical, Life, Physical, and Social Sciences.

Annual Review of Anthropology

Vol. 41 • Oct. 2012 • ISBN: 978-0-8243-1941-0 • <http://anthro.annualreviews.org>

Co-Editors: Donald Brenneis, University of California, Santa Cruz
Peter T. Ellison, Harvard University

The Annual Review of Anthropology, in publication since 1972, covers significant developments in the subfields of anthropology, including archaeology, biological anthropology, linguistics and communicative practices, regional studies and international anthropology, and sociocultural anthropology. This journal is essential reading for anthropologists, ethnologists, archaeologists, linguists, and scientists in related fields.

RECOVERING LANGUAGES & LITERACIES OF THE AMERICAS

The world's linguistic diversity is diminishing, with more than 200 languages declared extinct and thousands more endangered. The Recovering Languages and Literacies of the Americas initiative will provide scholars who study endangered languages of North America, South America, and Central America an opportunity to publish indigenous language grammars and dictionaries, literacy studies, ethnographies, and other linguistic monographs through the three participating presses.

112TH ANNUAL MEETING CALL FOR PAPERS

FUTURE PUBLICS, CURRENT ENGAGEMENTS
CHICAGO, NOVEMBER 20-24, 2013

Dana-Ain Davis
Alaka Wali

2013 EXECUTIVE PROGRAM CHAIRS

The 2013 annual meeting theme Future Publics, Current Engagements invites discussions about how anthropological theory and method can provide insight into the human past and emerging future.

Anthropologists have long been engaged with diverse publics and with other social sciences. The influence of anthropological methods, concepts and research is growing, as witnessed by the fact that over half of us are now employed outside the academy. Our journals are experimenting with new formats to link research to contemporary concerns. We engage with rapidly changing media technologies to reach diverse audiences and explore different pathways to activism, collaboration, and scholarship. By locating the human at the center of its inquiry, anthropology through all of its fields provide crucial methodological and political insights for other disciplines.

Chicago, the site for the 2013 AAA Annual Meeting, was a powerhouse of the American 20th century. At the confluence of diverse migrations, the city was the location for experiments in commerce, architecture, technology and the human sciences. It was the intellectual inspiration for the modeling of socio-ecological relationships. Today, Chicago is once again at the forefront of thinking about urban places, social movements, the political machinery, and the role of technology in shaping modern publics and life. As elsewhere, its peoples traverse the fraught terrain of changing economic conditions, calling anthropologists to reflect on our role in the real and painful struggles of cities and their residents.

The 2013 annual meeting is dedicated to examining our efforts to transform our disciplinary identity and capacity in terms of knowledge production and relevance in a world of radical change. What is the nature of anthropological knowledge in a world of heterogeneity, interconnectivity and risk? How can we rethink collaborations beyond the categories of researcher/subject, expert/lay, or anthropologist/other? How can we fruitfully participate in interdisciplinary exchanges and projects that engage big questions? How do we nurture and support younger scholars who are struggling to expand the questions and parameters that define the field for a new century? How do ethical considerations shape the practice but also the substance of our scholarship in an imperiled world?

We are at a historical moment when there is healthy interdisciplinary dialogue about theory and method and a search for effective methods for studying globalized futures.

Anthropology can take a lead in confronting questions of the human, culture and life itself that engages many disciplines.

We are planning a lively conference to consider these questions, among others. In addition to the standard modes of dialogue and representation, we will offer innovative ways to engage Chicago audiences with opportunities to present in the "public square," converse with curious, engaged residents, and view the city in a different light. We hope to create a space for advancing anthropological thought to new domains.
