TO BE HUMAN: An Introduction to Cultural Anthropology

Alexander Alland, Jr., Columbia University
Using the question "What is human nature?" as the unifying theme, this text provides a humanistic view of cultural anthropology in which culture is seen as both a system of signs and as a code for behavioral adaptation. It begins by introducing concepts in a gradual fashion, enabling students to acquire a good grasp of the fundamentals before confronting the chapter on theory. The closing chapter examines two case studies of humans under extreme deprivation (The Ik of Uganda and the holocaust victims), demonstrating how responses to these conditions are based on cultural and historical facts.

ANTHROPOLOGY: An Introduction, 3rd Ed.

Lowell D. Holmes & Wayne Parris both of Wichita State University

This book examines the physical, cultural, archeological and linguistic attributes of mankind. It begins with an analysis of the nature of anthropology and its relation to other disciplines, continues with a lucid outline of the history of anthropology, and then covers such topics as human evolution, fossil man, race, and prehistory. The emphasis is on the concept of culture, and the book defines it, explains how it is analyzed, and presents a description of American culture.

TO BE HUMAN: An Introduction to General Anthropology

Alexander Alland, Jr., Columbia University
Here is a balanced presentation of the four fields of anthropology: physical anthropology, archaeology, linguistics, and cultural anthropology. The text deals with the evolution of the human species and the evolution of culture as well as the place of anthropological studies in the modern world. Although Alland approaches the field from a basically humanistic point of view, the biological foundations of humans are not neglected.
(0 471 01747-7) 1980 657 pgs.

CULTURE:

The Anthropological Perspective
Marc J. Swartz & David K. Jordan, *both of
The University of California, San Diego*

A cultural anthropology text that employs the concepts of culture, social structure, and personality as a basis or theme for explaining human behavior. Each chapter begins with a detailed ethnographic case from a different society, involving actual people.

ANTHROPOLOGY:

The Cultural Perspective, 2nd Ed.
James P. Spradley & David W. McCurdy,
both of Macalester College

This basic text teaches traditional concepts of cultural anthropology through detailed ethnographic situations, demonstrating how the concept of culture may be employed by students to understand life in their own and other societies. Uses extensive American ethnographic material.

In the Land of the Olmec

VOLUME 1. THE ARCHAEOLOGY OF SAN LORENZO TENOCHTITLAN
VOLUME 2. THE PEOPLE OF THE RIVER

By Michael D. Coe and Richard A. Diehl

Presents the results of a large-scale expedition to explore the age and nature of the Olmec, Mesoamerica's first complex society. Reports on landscape, excavations, magnetometry, ceramics, lithics, monuments, faunal remains, radiocarbon samples, and petrography in volume 1 provide data to begin to explain why and how Olmec civilization first arose here. Volume 2 presents one of the most detailed investigations yet carried out of human adaptation to the New World tropics.

Skywatchers of Ancient Mexico

By Anthony F. Aveni

Combining as it does the romance of space with the mystery of the past, the study of pre-Columbian skywatchers of the New World has drawn increasing scientific and popular attention in recent years. Aveni, one of the pioneers in the emerging interdisciplinary field of archaeoastronomy, couples basic astronomy with archaeological and ethnological data to synthesize what is known of ancient astronomy in this hemisphere.

CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY

A Contemporary Perspective, Second Edition

Roger M. Keesing, Australian National University, Canberra

Revised to be more accessible to your students, this new edition continues to capture the excitement and relevance of contemporary anthropology. A simplified and clarified presentation includes more summary material, as the book applies a unified theoretical perspective to both the tribal world and such contemporary global issues as food and famine, sexism, and Third-World politics. It also focuses more on social anthropology.

IN THE BEGINNING: AN INTRODUCTION TO ARCHAEOLOGY, 4th Edition, by Brian M. Fagan.

Cloth/c. 576 pages/$16.95 tentative. In its new edition, Brian Fagan's comprehensive introduction to archaeological method and theory is still the most lucid and best-illustrated text on the market. Substantially reorganized and rewritten, the Fourth Edition features new material on ethnoarchaeology, settlement archaeology, and archaeological reconstruction and survey—plus, new chapter previews that highlight key themes and concepts.

Coming in February!

HUMAN BIOLOGY AND BEHAVIOR: AN ANTHROPOLOGICAL PERSPECTIVE, 3rd Edition, by Mark L. Weiss & Alan E. Mann.

Cloth/c. 592 pages/$16.95 tentative. The evolutionary framework that's used to survey the major sub-fields of physical anthropology hasn't changed in the new edition of this popular text. However, the material on genetics and genetic mechanisms has been moved forward where it's more useful—and there's expanded coverage of hominid evolution, recent fossil finds, modern variations and HLA types, and human growth, development, and variation.

HUMANKIND EMERGING, 2nd Edition, by Bernard G. Campbell.

Paper/489 pages/$13.95/with Instructor's Manual. A beautifully written, lavishly illustrated, up-to-the-minute text for physical anthropology.

PEOPLE OF THE EARTH: AN INTRODUCTION TO WORLD PREHISTORY, 3rd Edition, by Brian M. Fagan.

Paper/412 pages/$11.95. A straightforward, narrative account of world prehistory ... and a perennial best-seller!

CONFORMITY AND CONFLICT: READINGS IN CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY, 4th Edition, edited by James P. Spradley & David W. McCurdy.

Paper/397 pages/$7.95/with Instructor's Manual. Thirty-five readable, contemporary articles which explore all the key topics in cultural anthropology.

ANTHROPOLOGY: CONTEMPORARY PERSPECTIVES, 2nd Edition, edited by David E. Hunter & Phillip Whitten.

Paper/343 pages/$8.95. Forty-two current selections which offer a lively perspective on the major sub-fields of anthropology.

The Tapestry of Culture

Abraham Rosman / Paula G. Rubel
Barnard College, Columbia University

Available December 1980

©1981, 352 pages, soft, illustrated
Includes Instructor's Manual with test items

This introduction to cultural anthropology presents current concepts and major theories and how they were developed. Using an holistic approach, the authors introduce symbolic, ideational, economic, political, and material aspects of culture, providing students with an in-depth study of the richness and complexity of culture and its evolvement through the ages. The text considers development and change among Third and Fourth World peoples, programs of planned change, and the anthropology of complex societies. Providing the conceptual framework necessary for reading and understanding ethnographies, The Tapestry of Culture can be supplemented by any type of ethnography or reader.

Long Engagements

MATURITY IN MODERN JAPAN. David W. Plath. Through a series of vivid case studies, this work shows how the qualities of the mature person evolve across the adult years in contemporary middle-class Japan, and how a person and his consociates—those who grow older along with him—sustain long engagements of interaction in which they shape the direction and pace of one another's individual development. $17.50

A Jesuit Hacienda in Colonial Mexico

SANTA LUCÍA, 1576–1767. Herman W. Konrad. Despite their lack of experience in rural economics, the Jesuits created in Santa Lucía one of the largest and most prosperous haciendas in colonial Mexico. This richly detailed study reconstructs the history of Santa Lucía, and provides new insights for recasting basic views of the nature of haciendas and colonial society. $28.50

Women and Marriage in Kpelle Society

Caroline H. Bledsoe. An examination of the ways in which economic and political opportunities for men and women influence marriage patterns among the Kpelle of Liberia, this study focuses in particular on women's use of domestic and marital institutions to acquire the wealth and status needed to gain independence for themselves, yet maintain control over others. Illus. $16.50

Ilongot Headhunting, 1883–1974

A STUDY IN SOCIETY AND HISTORY. Renato Rosaldo. Challenging the fashionable view that so-called primitives live in a timeless present, this study combines historical and ethnographic method to show that the practice of headhunting among the Ilongots of Northern Luzon was not an unchanging ancient custom, but a cultural practice that has shifted dramatically over the course of the past century. Understanding Evolution

EARL HANSON, Wesleyan University. This text examines evolution as an explanation of the unity and diversity of life. Professor Hanson begins with the problem of organismic diversity and Darwinian natural selection. Utilizing modern population genetics, he proceeds to a modern view of the origin of the species and concludes with phylogenetic analyses of the diversity of living things. Comprehensive references follow each chapter, and an appendix provides taxonomic information.

Animal Play Behavior

ROBERT FAGAN, University of Pennsylvania. Professor Fagan employs an evolutionary approach and incorporates recent advances in theoretical biology to address an essential biological paradox: animals of every age and species, including humans, spend time and energy—even risk physical injury—performing the seemingly inconsequential activities referred to as “play”. Topics discussed include the history of animal (including human) play, the biological bases and effects of play actions, and the shifting balance between selfishness and cooperation in social play.

Modern Ethology

S.A. BARNETT, The Australian National University. Noted ethologist S. A. Barnett offers a comprehensive introductory textbook in animal behavior. The approach is organismic, physiological, epigenetic, and experimental, though evolutionary ideas are treated as complementary to the epigenetic. An innovative section on human ethology is included, and the most up-to-date concepts and research in ethology are thoroughly considered.

ANTHROPOLOGICAL LITERATURE

AN INDEX TO PERIODICAL ARTICLES AND ESSAYS—QUARTERLY

A unique index of more than 1,000 serial publications and collections of essays received by the Tozzer Library of the Peabody Museum. The index is produced under the guidance of a distinguished Advisory Board representing all major subfields of anthropology: Cyril S. Belshaw, Eugene Giles, Mary Haas, Frank Hole, June Nash, Sol Tax, and Richard B. Woodbury. The editor is Nancy J. Schmidt.

ANTHROPOLOGICAL LITERATURE is the most comprehensive index of current articles available to anthropologists and researchers in tangent disciplines. It lists significant materials in all languages. Collections of anthropological essays—such as symposia, colloquia, festschriften, and collections of readings—are also indexed. The 9,000 to 10,000 entries compiled each year are organized into five classified sections: (1) cultural/social anthropology; (2) archaeology; (3) biological/physical anthropology; (4) linguistics; (5) general, method, and theory.

The index appears quarterly in winter, spring, summer, and fall editions. Volume 1, No. 1 was published in the winter of 1979. Issues are perfect bound and approximately 6 x 9 inches in size. A single issue price is $10.00. Subscription rates are: Individuals $28.00 per year, Institutions $38.00 per year.

1981 James Mooney Award

For Studies of New World Societies and Cultures

The Southern Anthropological Society and the University of Tennessee Press offer an award of $1,000 for the book-length manuscript that best describes and interprets the culture of a New World population. The population may be prehistoric, historic, or contemporary and may be of any ethnic or racial composition. The judges will welcome works in ethnography, linguistics, archaeology, physical anthropology, history, folklore, sociology and other disciplines, and especially scholarship that crosses the traditional lines separating these areas. Manuscripts are to be sent to the Chairperson of the Awards Committee, from whom additional information may be obtained: Professor Harriet J. Kupferer, Department of Anthropology, University of North Carolina, Greensboro, NC 27412. The award-winning manuscript will be published by the University of Tennessee Press.

Anishinabe: 6 Studies of Modern Chippewa

J. Anthony Paredes, editor

1980. xi, 436 pp. Illustrations; index. $27.50

Contributions by J. Anthony Paredes, Stuart Berde, Barbara D. Jackson, Gretel H. Pelto, Timothy Roufs, Michael A. Rynkiewicz. Foreword by Ruth Landes.

* Detailed accounts of the lifeways of diverse populations of northern Minnesota Chippewa in the late 1960s.

"Anishinabe is a truly remarkable volume... perhaps the most scientific study yet reported of one of the most difficult-to-study ethnic groups in the United States. ... It tellingly illustrates how applied anthropological research can modify theory, successfully integrating contributions by six authors carrying out a unified policy of research design. It provides chapters eminently useful as fresh readings for social science courses of many kinds: anthropology of religion, urban anthropology, anthropological theory, minorities, culture change. ... Applied anthropology at its best, clearly reported."

Aboriginal Subsistence Technology on the Southeastern Coastal Plain During the Late Prehistoric Period

by Lewis H. Larson

1980. iix, 260 pp. Illustrations, index. $20.00. Number 2 in a new series: Ripley P.

Bullen Monographs in Anthropology and History.

* The environmental resources of the prehistoric Indians of the southeastern Coastal Plain—and how they used them.

"... a major tool for persons interested in the subsistence, settlement, and adaptive systems of the protohistoric and Historic Period Indians of the Southeast. Archaeologists, historians, and biologists will find it immediately useful. Persons in other fields—and the general reader—will find that this well-written account of how the Indians made a living makes fascinating reading."

— Stephen J. Gluckman, Professor of Anthropology
University of South Florida

"... Larson's volume sets out to provide the factual background of what one needs to know about the coastal environment in great detail and then gives us from archeology and ethnography the aboriginal means used to exploit or utilize this quite diverse coastscape."

history.

The Entropy Law states that all energy flows from orderly to disorderly, from usable to unusable. In his new book "ENTROPY", Jeremy Rifkin explains how this inexorable process governs every aspect of our life.

"It describes with clarity the intellectual wreckage that must be cleared away before human beings can construct a social order that is at peace with the natural order."
—Quest 80

"It has compelled me to re-evaluate much of the safe and comfortable thinking which governs our day to day lives."
—Senator Mark Hatfield

"A cogent and urgent argument . . . sobering and hard hitting."
—Publisher's Weekly

" . . . most articulate and comprehensive . . . I do believe the book should be widely read and taken to heart . . ."
—Hugh Downs, ABC-News

" . . . penetrates to the heart of the energy equation in human history. Rifkin has painted a picture of the moral order that must eventuate." —Theodore A. Wertime, Smithsonian Institution
